Evening Division Quarters Being Remodeled

Remodeling of the evening division office, located in the U building on the campus is promised to be completed by the end of Christmas vacation, Roy Wheeler, superintendent of buildings and grounds, announced today.

Guy M. Harvey, assistant dean of the evening division, stated that the new office will be a great improvement over the old one. Work has been going on since December 8.

New features in the future night division office will consist of redwood sidewalls, finished by forest green panels. The walls will be insulated against the heat, and swinging doors are being put in the entrance way, as well as a new entrance facing the far west parking lot enabling students and faculty to enter through the back.

A new inter-communication phone system will be installed in the office which will be a great improvement over the present phone system. The new phone system is presently used in all large and modern offices.

The dance, an important SAC social highlight, will feature music by Bob Froeschle's band. Lavish decorations include snow-covered pine trees and branches under dim blue lights, forming a snow scene to further the theme, "Winter Wonderland."

Eight program dances are planned from ten to eleven o'clock, with unscheduled dancing holding sway the remainder of the evening.

Attractive programs of outstanding souvenir merit have been prepared by Frank Sekeris and his program committee, according to Mrs. Reed.

Guests invited include: Miss Agnes Todd Miller, Dr. and Mrs. Daniel C. McNaughton, and Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Russell. Patrons are: Miss Genevieve Humiston, Miss Dorothy Decker, Miss Alice Stegall, Mr. and Mrs. F. Wayne Flinn, and Mr. and Mrs. Royal C. Marten.

BULLETIN

Christmas vacation will begin after the last classes today, December 16th. Classes will be resumed at 8:00 a. m., Tuesday, January 3rd.

Introducing

Arlene Wright is tall, yet the way she has of grinning and wrinkling up her nose at the same time makes you think of a particularly playful kitten. If Arlene goes into modeling, which she has hopes of doing, that smile, combined with her titian blonde hair and blue-hazel eyes, should radiate from the cover of every magazine and make everyone feel warmer and happier.

Born in Santa Ana, Arlene doesn't have the violent urge that most of us have for traveling. "I don't think I'd like to leave Santa Ana for any place unless it were in the mountains or, maybe, Carmel," she told us. While majoring in business administration, Arlene works at Sears on weekends and holidays where she puts her SAC learning into practice.

According to Arlene, Charlie Barnet and Tex Beneke have the best bands in the country. "I listen to them all the time, except maybe when I'm playing tennis or eating Spanish food. I love Spanish food." So do we.

WHITEY PRITCHARD

Have you seen a man of five feet, ten inches tall with white, curly hair and blue eyes who always has a pipe dangling from his mouth? If you have, take notice! The blond young man wearing a bright Scotch tam and straddling the goal posts, eye to camera, for an action shot or hanging by his heels from the ginko tree in order to get an atmospheric picture of SAC campus activities is Whitey Pritchard, Del Ano photographer. Whitey was born in Fort Wayne, Indiana, and moved to California when he was one month old. In 1947 Whitey graduated from Santa Ana High School. 1948 found him working for Sully's Studio in Santa Ana and for the Pacific Aerial Industries in Long Beach.

Perhaps the most important picture Whitey has ever taken is the picture of Howard Hughes' flying boat which appeared in an issue of Life magazine.

(Ed. Note—This is the fifth in a series of articles written by Jane Lindemuth, El Don feature writer, to acquaint students with the various departments of the college.)

According to T. H. Glenn, head of SAC's English department, there is no more important tool in the communication of thought than that of the spoken and written word. Language is used constantly in our own thinking, in acquiring the thoughts of others, and in communicating our own ideas. The English department, through its varied program of courses in fundamental English, literature, creative writing, and speech, aims to give students a better command of the English language and to increase their skill in the use of this very important tool.

In addition to his courses in English 70, 1A, and 1B, Glenn is perhaps best noted for his literature classes which he alternates, giving world literature one year and Shakespeare the next. Glenn is president of the Junior College Association of Southern California and is a world traveler, going to Europe each summer as a conductor of tours through points of interest.

Creative writing is the field in which Miss Lota Blythe specializes. Among topics covered in her day and evening classes on this subject are magazine article, short story, and verse writing. In addition to play and radio script writing in the day classes, a study of the construction of the novel is made during the evening course. "Blythe Pensters," a literary club composed of the more talented members of the evening class, meet once a month to discuss the latest novels and to criticize their own material.

Guest speakers such as Mrs. Robert Christianson and Mrs. A. M. Fickes, verse and article writers, and Allan Vaughn Elston, local author whose latest book is "The Sheriff of San Miguel," visit the evening class from time to time. Lectures by these experienced writers give the students of creative writing a look at the problems of the writer of today. "Tavern ern Tattlers," a student organization which each spring publishes the "Tavern Post," a magazine of student written short stories, articles, and verse is sponsored by Miss Blythe and T. H. Glenn, department head. Tales of Miss Blythe's travel experiences during her summer tour of England and France give the literature derived from these countries new meaning in the eyes of her students.

In addition to her English courses (70, 1A, and 1B) Mrs. Gail Smith teaches contemporary literature. Color and interest are combined in her classes. Mrs. Smith studied English literature at Stanford. Travel in Mexico appeals to her since she spent her summer vacation there and plans to revisit the country this Christmas.

Editorial

The parking problem at Santa Ana College is fast becoming a serious business to students and the faculty. Parking signs and rules for parking have been placed at certain vital spots on the campus. Yet a certain few of the students insist on disobeying these rules with no logical reasoning when there is ample parking space in the designated areas.

There should be no questioning as to the reasons for the action which has been taken in this parking problem. They are fairly obvious. When driveways are cluttered with cars parked on either side, it only allows for one way traffic. Barren spots where grassy or planted spots had been, are visible now.

I wonder what we students would do if our campus were the size of the ones at U.C.L.A., California, or Southern California? Sometimes a student of one of those great colleges may trudge a half mile, books and all, to a class.

Let's all help to solve this problem and start to school a couple of minutes ahead of our usual time. The parking facilities were planned for us. Let's use the parking areas and keep our campus in its best condition.

Story Sold By SAC Student

Mrs. Neal Woodward, member of Miss Lota Blythe's evening division creative writing class, has just sold an article to the "For Times" magazine. The article is entitled "Rocking Chair or Travel Map" and is being published for the first time.

Mrs. Woodward's first attempt at writing was made for the creative writing class which meets every Thursday evening for a three hour period. The class has recently enjoyed talks by guest speakers Allan Vaughn Elston, local author, and Miss Ethel Jacobson, Fullerton poet.

Alumni Trail

By PAT JOHNSON

Many of the '49 graduates of SAC were seen at the Little Rose Bowl game, and we managed to talk to a few of them. They all seem to enjoy their respective college, but agreed that SAC still held a special place in their hearts.

Jackie Morris, former president of the AWS, member of Piloteers, and in charge of many of the SAC dances last year, is living up to her good work begun at SAC, while presently enrolled at Redlands. When we saw her, she was quite interested in the doings of Santa Ana College. She remarked that Redlands was wonderful, in her opinion.

Tom Murphine and Frank Errota, former editors of El Don, were down from San Jose State visiting the SAC campus last week. They also went to the Junior Rose Bowl game. Both are continuing their majors of journalism at San Jose, along with Maurice Duke and Mike Williams, former editors of El Don.

Duck wrote us a letter telling about his activities up there. Seems as though all he does is go to conventions, and listen to speeches. He spoke of attending an International Relations Convention in San Francisco several weeks ago. He also told of leading a round-table discussion on the Far Eastern Situation, in which discussion an Arab, an Indian, two Chinese, and a Filipino participated. He said it was interesting to hear nationalistic views on the countries that they were discussing.

YMCA Discusses Month's Project

The college YMCA held its final meeting of '49 in the Student Body office in the student union Wednesday, December 14th.

The project of the YMCA for the month of December, membership, was the main topic of discussion at the meeting. Members were urged to bring in new members for the club. All men students may join the YMCA.

Other topics under discussion included inter-club and inter-school athletic affairs. Also the necessity of cooperation among the clubs on the campus for a better school was discussed.

Men students who attended were Jay Needler, Ralph Garcia, Edward Schlak, Bob Schlak, Fred Yamada, Jay Hoffer, and Don Ayres, secretary; Don Musil, vice-president; Lyn Davis, president; and Ernest Crain, advisor.

Wednesday night, December 14th, representatives of the YMCA and the YWCA traveled to Fullerton to attend a joint meeting with the Fullerton YMCA.

SAC-FJC YM-YW's Hold Joint Meeting

The Young Men's Christian Association and the Young Women's Christian Association will have a joint meeting with the Fullerton Branches of the YM and YW on January 5, 1950. The Santa Ana members will be guests of Fullerton.

Wednesday, December 14, Bobbie Lou Currie, president of the YWCA and Lyn Davis, president of the YMCA, and their representative cabinets, went to Fullerton to make plans for this meeting.

The Caballeros service club held their last meeting at the home of Don "Buster" Dunbar, 1301 North Louise, Santa Ana.

Among subjects discussed at the last meeting were the policing at the San Berdoo game, and the sale of the Santa Ana-Fullerton football programs. These projects were both successful to the club.

The Caballeros were also on hand when the Rose Bowl was decorated and did a fine job as did the other clubs. Help to the AWS Christmas project was also given by the club. Money and canned food to help make Christmas a happier one for children was the main idea of this project.

Officers serving the club for the first semester are Al Fletcher, president; Leonard Brockman, vice-president; Don Dunbar, secretary; Don Roelands, treasurer; and Garry Johnston, sergeant-at-arms.

SPINSTERS

Meeting in the home of Hilda Ann Johnson, 1330 Garnsey, on Monday evening, Dec. 12, the Spinsters, SAC women's service club, sacked Christmas candy for the children of Logan school.

BUCCANEERS

Vice-President Lester Davis of the Buccaneers stated today that all activities of the club had been cancelled until after the Christmas holidays.

But when the Dons were out there battling Little Rock JC there were several "Bucs" out there fighting. Among them were Eli Price, Melton Lewis, Ed Nearing, Don Balsley, and Irwin Spector.

Some of the officers who will serve at their last meeting after the Christmas holidays are Richard McCammond, president; Lester Davis, vice-president; Don Phillips, treasurer; Cliff Carrens, secretary; and Harry Bergquist, sergeant-at-arms.

LAS GITANAS

Scene of the Christmas festivities for Las Gitanas, SAC women's service club was the home of JoAnn Franklin, corner of First and Birch Streets, Santa Ana. Contributions to the Robert Harrington fund were discussed during the short business meeting which was presided over by the president, Carmen Perez.

Members watched television and played canasta for the remainder of the evening. Refreshments of hot wassail were served.

Others in addition to the president, Carmen Perez, include Rita Maher, vice-president; Elizabeth Elliott, secretary; and Pauline Scott, treasurer. Advisors for the group are Mrs. Florence Finley and Mrs. Orville M. Knutsen.

LOS GAUCHOS

The Gauchos as well as the Buccaneers have discontinued activities until after the Christmas vacation.

But it seems that the Gauchos were best represented on the playing field last Saturday. First stringers include Ray Willsey, Dick Adams, Carlos Lillywhite, Al Carmichael, Bob Reid, Bob Leonard, Cliff Leonard, and Bob Zelinka.

SAC Sprinters Set Practice For February

Santa Ana College's defending Eastern Conference championship tracksters backed by nine returning lettermen, will begin practice February 1, according to track coach John Ward.

The Dons will do all their training on the high school field and their first meet of the season will probably be held on February 24. In March, the Dons will open their conference schedule and also participate in a few invitational meets.

Besides having nine returning lettermen, the tracksters have numerous new prospects whose names Coach Ward will release at a later date. Last year the Dons swept through the Eastern Conference undefeated and took the finals to capture the championship by a wide margin.

Returning lettermen include: Wayne Hudson and Jerry Lincoln, 100 and 220 yard runners; Don Balsley and Paul Duncan, outstanding 440 pacers; Harry Quackenbush and Tony De La Riva, 880 men; Jerry Crawford, one mile trotter; Jack Dooley, broad jumping specialist; and Kelly Hilton, shot-put and javelin tosser.

LR Trojans Nip Dons 25-19 In Final Minutes

With only three minutes to play Coach Jimmy Karam's Little Rock Trojans scored the winning touchdown to beat the Santa Ana Dons 25-19 last Saturday afternoon in the Pasadena Rose Bowl.

Expected Easy Victory

The Trojans were expected to trample the Dons by five or six touchdowns, but apparently the Santa Anans didn't believe what they read in the papers. Little Rock, however, drew first blood by scoring on their opening drive of the game sending their star halfback Harold (Tiger) Waggoner over from the eleven.

Al (Hoagy) Carmichael evened things up for the Dons in the second stanza by taking the pigskin nine yards to score after Keever Jankovich recovered a fumble on the Trojans 17 yard marker. A few plays later Don Balsley, playing right half, intercepted a Little Rock pass and romped 45 yards to score with the help of some superb blocking from his teammates. This put the Dons ahead 12-6.

Little Rock tied the score nine plays later with a 12 yard pass thrown by Ralph Troillett and caught in the end zone by Joe Shinn to end the first half in a deadlock. Coach Karam looked worried in the third quarter, but 125 pound Bennie Scott's 70 yard punt return for a touchdown cheered him up somewhat.

Score By Quarters

Little Rock	6	6	7	6—25
Santa Ana	0	12	7	0—19

Courtmen Plan Holiday Tussles

With high spirits, but little conditioning, Coach "Doc" Cure's college cagers are scheduled to practice over the Christmas holidays in preparation for a tough season.

The only experience the Dons have had so far this season was in the Chaffey basketball tourney being held during this week. The team started full scale practice last Monday with about 20 players reporting to action.

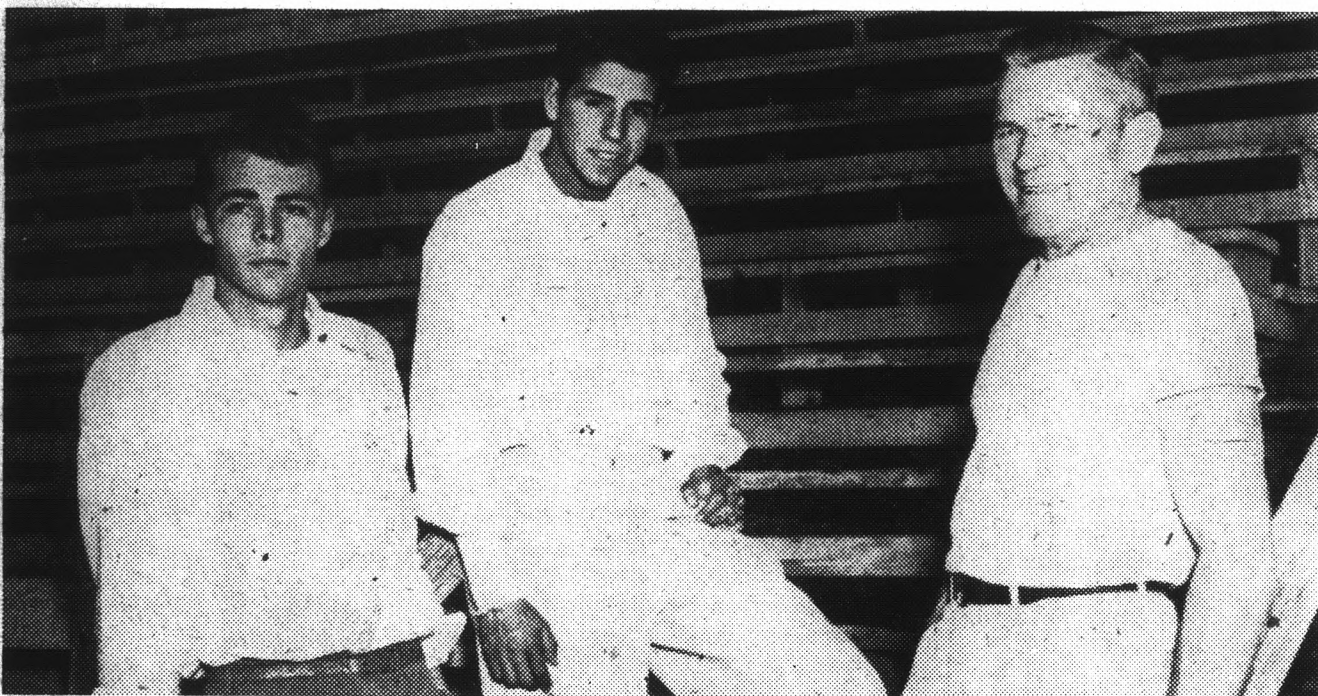

According to Cure, the squad will not be cut until the start of their practice schedule and then the team will be reduced to about 15 members. Over the two weeks vacation Cure plans to work the squad hard and meet about three practice opponents before college resumes in January.

The squad is backed by five returning lettermen, although a couple are out with injuries from football season. Bob Reid, fullback on the 1949 football squad, is the tallest member of this year's five towering over 6 foot 3 inches.

'Harum-Scarum' Karum Plans Little Rose Bowl Trip In 1950

Meek mannered Trojan Coach Jimmy Karam headed the successful squad back to Little Rock, Arkansas last Monday, boasting that the Junior Rose Bowl game will be placed on their 1950 schedule.

Karam's only regret of the California trip is that the Trojans can't take on the winner of the big Rose Bowl contest. He gave himself full credit coaching the Trojans and stated that "If any four-year college wants to get in to the big Rose Bowl classic three years from now tell them to come around and see me."

Coach Bill Cook and his mighty Santa Ana Dons took the defeat last Saturday somewhat in despair after coming so close to a victory. Cook thought the Dons played an outstanding game, but he said our pass defense was weak and should have been improved.

The hard hitting Don line backed by Keever Jankovich made it possible to recover five out of six Trojan fumbles during the afternoon which was the deciding factor in sparking the Don's scoring drives.

Sanders To Head Football Dinner

Red Sanders, UCLA football mentor, heads the list of guests scheduled to attend the annual SAC football banquet on Thursday evening January 12, it was announced today by Bill Cook, head SAC football coach.

During the evening, letters will be awarded to the Dons and also the 1950 co-captains will be selected. The team will vote on this year's most outstanding player and the most improved member of the 1949 squad.

Johnny Fouch, now at USC, won the most outstanding player award last year and on this year's eleven there are several outstanding members, but the squad has to decide on only one. According to Coach Cook, the banquet will be the largest ever held at SAC.

Inside The Huddle

By DEAN GAUTSCHY

Over 33,000 fans watched the Dons battle the Trojans for the national championship, only to lose in the final minutes of play after holding the Little Rockians to a 19-19 tie.

The big game is finally over and Mr. Karam can be nominated as the luckiest coach in the history of football. If the Dons could have scored a touchdown in the last two minutes of play I would be willing to bet the whole state of Arkansas that Karam's career as a coach would have suddenly come to an end.

Trojans Disappointed

All this talk about the Trojans being very disappointed, because they couldn't play the winner of the Big Rose Bowl game in my opinion is just plain stupidity. You would think that Karam would settle down a little after winning his big contest, but it seems as if now exaggeration has really taken over the somewhat cocky mentor's verbal expressions.

Getting away from Karam and talking about his team a little, I'm sure everybody that watched the Little Rose Bowl game will agree with me in saying that the Trojans were a mighty rugged opponent. Their speedy backfield and outstanding blocking were the winning factors.

Inspired Game

The Dons on the other hand played an inspired 60 minutes of football and only made one bad mistake. That was of course letting Bennie Scott, a flyweight, run for a touchdown. It is ironical when you think how Bob Reid booted one of his longest punts of the season only to have Scott score.

After the game Karam said he wasn't worried at anytime during the fracas, because he knew the Trojans would win. From where I sat in the saucer everytime I looked at Karam he was lighting up a cigaret and then tossing it down when his boys were in trouble. Lucky thing he didn't have to roll his own cigarets.
